HORNING, Ninth and D."BILLY" LETTERS READ IN COURTMissives from Mrs. McFarland to Coachman.

SOME SIGNED "LOVINGLY, JACK"

Inside of the Blackmail Charges Against William H. Cook Is Not Permitted to Reach Auditors at Police Court—Coachman Is Held for the Grand Jury.Much of the "inside story" of the blackmail case against William H. Cook, coachman, arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Rose T. McFarland, his employer, was not allowed to reach the ears of the throne at Police Court yesterday.
A dozen letters were shown to Judge Pugh which Mrs. McFarland admitted were written to the coachman. They were addressed to "Dear Billy," and signed "Lovingly, Mother," or "Lovingly, Jack."The hearing was a preliminary one, and after Judge Pugh read the letters which District Attorney Wilson produced he held Cook for the action of the grand jury on $2,500 bail.Women on the Stand.
Mrs. McFarland and Miss Julia Ballinger, who live with Mrs. McFarland, were the only witnesses. After the letters were identified by Mrs. McFarland, they were turned over to the court. Several post cards were read, which Mrs.
McFarland said to have been written to the coachman.Cook was arrested on November 11, charged with extorting money from Mrs.
McFarland under penalty of exposure.
He also said to have threatened to kill Mrs. McFarland if she exposed him."Was it solely because of this threat that you gave him money?" Mrs. Mc-Farland was asked."This was the only reason why I have given him money for the past five years," she answered.Mrs. McFarland then told how she employed Cook in 1906 as her coachman. She said he was then a driver in a livery stable, where she frequently hired teams.
Cook is said to have frequently driven for Mrs. McFarland and was finally hired to do her work exclusively as coachman and as general man-servant.Shortly after Cook came into her employ, Mrs. McFarland told the court he began to extort money from her. She said Cook came to her on November 6 last and demanded $50 to get himself up in business at Atlantic City. She said she gave him $50 on his promise to come back in several days for the rest of the money needed.On November 11, the day of his arrest, the witness said Cook came to the house and demanded the rest of the money.
It was at this time, she said, that she decided to have him arrested.Miss Ballinger testified to hearing Cook make demands on Mrs. McFarland for money and hearing her threaten to kill her former employer if she exposed him.
Miss Ballinger also testified that after Mrs. McFarland paid Cook $50 on November 6, she (Miss Ballinger) went to Atlantic City to warn Cook not to come back and apply for more, saying Mrs.
McFarland had no more money for him.At the request of Assistant United States District Attorney Ralph Given, Judge Pugh fixed the bond at $2,500 and held Cook. The date of the trial is indeterminate and until bond is furnished Cook will remain in the District jail.Floral Work Created by Shaffer, ANACOSTIA.

Secretary of the Interior Fisher has been requested by the Congress Heights Citizens' Association to provide an official guard at the south gate of the Government Hospital for the Insane. It is claimed that a majority of the escapes from the institution are by way of this gate, and as it is necessary to keep it open a large part of the time, a guard should be stationed there, the same as at the other entrances to the grounds.The congregation of the Anacostia Baptist Church has chosen its officers for the ensuing year, as follows: Rev.
Frank J. Hardens, present pastor, will continue for another year; deacons, John T. Dent, Norvall W. Greer, and Charles J. Cookman; trustees, T. J. Green, Joseph Hoswell, W. A. Cookman, and Claude Loomer; clerk, Leroy Fields; treasurer, J. E. Gill; financial secretary, Eugene Cookman; organist, Mrs. Ladue McGill; pianist, Eugene Cookman; delegates to the executive board, Samuel L.
Dunham and J. Cranford; delegates to the Columbia Association, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. William Carter, and Mrs.
Ida Hoswell.Robert Millard has taken out a permit to make extensive repairs to his residence, at Stevens and Wade roads. W.
E. Smith will cause to be erected a modern two-story frame dwelling at 224 High street. Thomas J. Leonard is preparing plans for the erection of a three-story apartment house at Thirteenth street and Goop street. Howard House, in Minnesota avenue, has undergone a complete remodeling, and will be placed on the market by the promoters of Fairview. A wedding is being celebrated at a two-story frame dwelling at 227 Mount View place. Mr. and Mrs.
William V. King have moved into their recently completed home, in Mount View place. As soon as the water, sewer, and gas mains are extended into the new streets in Fairview, a number of houses will be erected in 8 street, the plans of which are now being prepared. They are to be finished with pebble dash.Chicken thieves are paying their rounds again, and owners of fowls are putting special watches on their houses. Mr.
Huddington, of W street, has been the heaviest loser so far, having been relieved of a number of fowls, which he valued at $5 each.Erving Father Fined $100.
Charged with the non-support of his two children, aged nine and thirteen years, Albert Bayly, of 1125 Eighth street northwest, a carpenter, was sentenced by Judge Pugh to pay a fine of $100 or spend three months at Occoquan.LOCAL MENTION.

BY THIS "COP"Policeman Objects to Verdict of Trial Board.A petition for a new trial for Polle-man Karl S. Cussler, of the Eighth predict, who was found guilty of intoxication while on duty and conduct un-becomingly an officer by the police trial board last Monday, was filed with the District Commissioners yesterday by Chapman W. Fowler, attorney for the policeman.Mr. Fowler based his petition for a new trial on the assertion that Cussler was appointed in August and that because of his brief service was unfamiliar with the manual and the rights contained therein. The petition states that Cussler was advised not to appear with counsel at the trial, and consequently he did not have the opportunity of cross-examining witnesses for the prosecution, which privilege is expressly given to defendants in section 8 of the police manual, under the caption of "Disposition of offenses."Mr. Fowler also states that additional evidence has come to light, which greatly mitigates the charges against Policeman Cussler.

TURKISH BATHS REOPEN.

Now the Handsomest Baths South of New York City.Washington can now boast of a Turkish and Russian bath establishment, that compares favorably with the finest and handsomest baths in the United States and surpasses many other cities in this respect. The Lafayette Turkish and Russian baths, which reopened yesterday, are now the largest and best equipped in the city of New York City.Thousands of dollars have been spent in the last few months by the owners, Messrs. Allen and Mitchell, equipping these baths through modern equipment, and fixtures to insure the comfort, pleasure, and safety of the public. Located under the fireproof Helasco Theater, they are convenient to all car lines and in the heart of the official and business life of Washington. Recently two large filters have been installed, which furnish water throughout the baths, including the swimming pool, which has a capacity of 2,000 gallons and is one of the largest in this country.One hundred and fifty persons can be comfortably accommodated in a day.
A very large area is covered by the different parts of the bath, in which are included the hot room, steam room, drying room, sleeping room, etc. There are many attendants and day and night mentors always on hand. Robert Gusti, manager in charge, for years associated with these baths, will continue in this capacity.

DEVISED TO RELATIVES.

Estate of Miss Emma C. Haugher Goes to Next of Kin.The will of Miss Emma C. Haugher was filed for probate in the District Supreme Court yesterday, dated June 7, 1911. It directs that the sum of $1,000 be paid to her sister, Mrs. Anna H. Haugher, and that the balance of the estate, which is her brother, Edmund H. Haugher. A like sum is left to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles H. Haugher and her brother, Charles H. Haugher.
To each of five nieces, the sum of $200 is left, $50 to Mrs. Louise W. Bliss; $200 to Mrs. Grace E. Polk; $100 to Emma L. Haugher, of Missouri; and $50 to the ministerial relief fund of the Reformed Church. The remainder of the estate is devised to her brother, Charles H. Haugher, and his wife, in equal shares.
Charles H. Haugher and Jesse B. K. Lee are named executors.

BARGAINS AT RETAIL.The Greatest Clothing Sale of the Year THE CELEBRATED MAKE OF Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothing BOUGHT AT AUCTIONFor reasons best known to themselves, a well-known Washington department store decided to discontinue their Men's Clothing Department, so they sold, through the Grotjan-Lobe Co., auctioners, of Baltimore, their entire stock of Men's Finest Clothing. We were the largest buyers, and as none of our so-called competitors were at the sale, we had things pretty much our own way.
We bought the finest Clothing, so to speak, for a mere song, and for those who are not acquainted with this fine make, we would suggest that they pick up most any monthly or weekly magazine or periodical and they will find the above-named Clothing thoroughly advertised as the finest make in America. This Clothing will be literally slaughtered in price. There are Suits, Overcoats, and Fur-lined Coats for most everybody, and the below-mentioned prices speak for themselves:

SUPT. DAVIDSONSchool Officials Present at Informal Reception.Teachers in the Washington high schools gave an informal reception to Supt. of Schools William M. Davidson and Mrs. Davidson, at the Tea Cup Inn, last night. The affair was strictly informal and had for its object the better acquaintance of the teachers and the new superintendent. Mr. Davidson recently returned from Omaha, where he attended the annual convention of the Nebraska Teachers' Association.
Miss R. E. Shanley, president of the High School Teachers' Association, was in charge of the reception and headed the receiving line. Among those present were Frank Daniel, principal of Mc-Kinley Manual Training School; William S. Small, principal of Eastern; Miss Edith C. Westcott, principal of Western; Emory M. Wilson, principal of Central; and Allan Davis, principal of
